Catalog

Year of design 2018

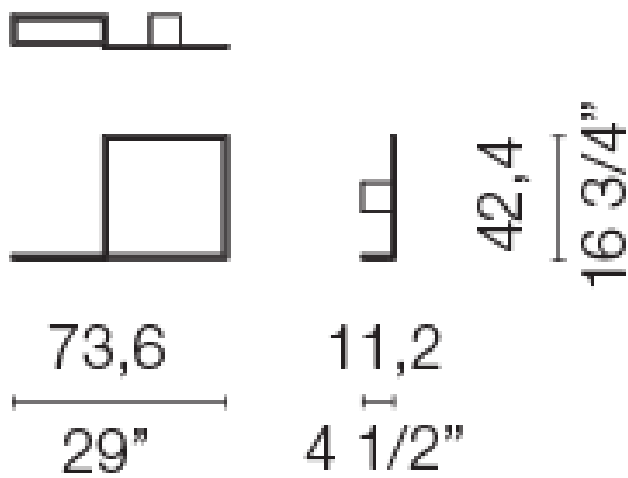

Floor Mirror with square metal structure. With "Waku", which means "frame" in Japanese, Nendo wanted to realize a real manufacturing challenge, defined in the recess of the mirror within the structure: an extreme exercise in style, searching for a perfection that enhances the precision and the graphic rigor of the original project.

Nendo

2013

Under the direction of architect Oki Sato, the group that gathers under the name Nendo has represented a cultured and refined alternative to self-celebrative design since 2002. "Nendo" means "clay" in Japanese; the job of the Nendo group in the field of interior architecture, furniture and graphics is to be as pliable and flexible as clay. In a just few short years and running on big personality and unmatched determination in the field of modern design, Nendo has already received several international credits.
